Ukrainian Pysanka Designs (Easter Eggs)

TRADITIONAL STYLES - MODERNIZED EGG
by Luba Terechpashyn

St. 15/79

Elise Anzini October 8

Elise Anzini lived most of her childhood in upstate New York in a haunted house where she developed her skills at turning eggshells into art. Her family then moved to Orange County, NY, and, in order to escape the oppressive Orange County Choppers Cult, Elise fled to Philadelphia and attended Moore College of Art and Design, graduating in 2012 with a BFA in Illustration. Elise considers herself more of a traditional pysanky artist, though her schooling lends to the brighter color palette on her eggs. She is employed part time by the Easter Bunny during the Lenten season.

The presentation will be on the art of Ukrainian Eggs (Pysanky). It will begin with a short history of the craft and include Elise's techniques and tips on the egg decorating process. The presentation will also touch briefly on the use of Etsy.

President's Message October 2016

We are saddened by the passing of our beloved Shirley Cohen. Shirley was dedicated to the WAA for over 25 years. Board member, sketchbook editor, Wednesday workshop treasurer, and Membership Chair, Shirley was involved in every aspect of what we do.

Along with the membership generosity with donations and unanimous decision by the board, monies will be invested to create the Shirley Cohen Memorial Award. This award will be a perpetual award and will be given once a year at our Annual open juried show.

Thank you to the members who donated to make this award possible.

Best wishes
RJ Haas, WAA President
