By William Ruspantine

Johon Soderstrom produces highly conceptual paintings using construction filler in an oak frame.

The drying process contributes irregularities and cracks as it dries, a process reminiscent of Art Provera, Informalism, and Japanese Kintsugi.

Like Japanese Kintsugi, where broken ceramics are repaired with urushi (Japanese colored laquer), Johon highlights an artifact's flaws and unique history rather than disguising it.

Printmaking - Wednesday Workshop

April 3, 2024 — 9:45 am - 12:00 pm

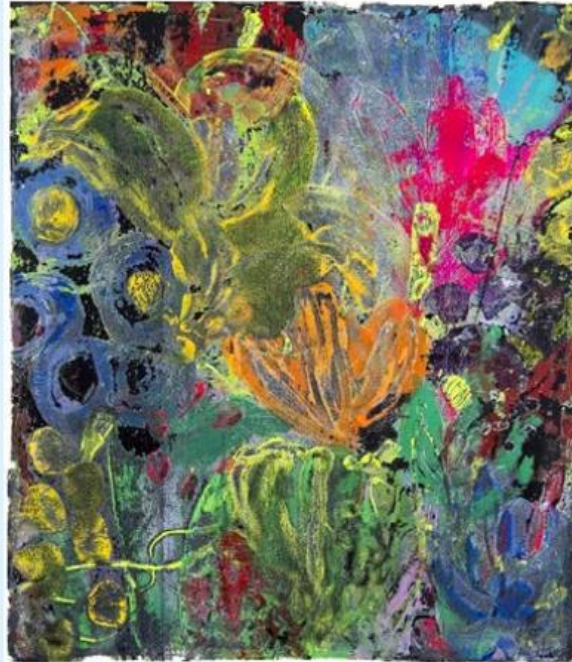

Instructor: Nancy L. Harty

The Kennedy Center
Room 301
429 John F. Kennedy Way
Willingboro NJ, 08046

Supplies will be provided at the workshop.
For info email info2019@willingboroart.org.

Fee: $5 for WAA members,
$10 for non-members.

Nancy L. Harty will introduce the basics of printmaking on a gelatin printing plate using bracers and acrylic paints. She will demonstrate how different paints respond to the plate, what papers to use, how to make interesting designs using household objects, and how the resulting prints can be used in other forms of art. Bring your inner child to this workshop to learn how to create beautiful one of a kind mono prints.

Nancy lives in Southern New Jersey with her husband, two sons, and three rescues. She was always an artist, craftsman and entrepreneur from a young age. After receiving a degree in marketing, she worked in customer service before becoming a stay at home mom raising her two boys. She utilized her marketing skills creating flyers, promotional materials and decorations for countless school fundraising events. Once the kids were both in school full-time, Nancy signed up for a mixed-media class at Perkins Center for the Arts in Moorestown. She had finally found her people. The idea of mixing paint with collage intrigued her enough that she went all in, trying all sorts of mixed media methods and materials. Her focus for the last 12 years has been creating monotype prints with a gelatin printing plate. Subject matter, themes, and colors are never predetermined, she enjoys exploration and working intuitively. The gelatin printing plate is the gym where she works out all of the struggles that life brings resulting in work that is joyful, whimsical and makes people smile. Nancy is creating a world where silly meets serious, one print at a time.

Featured Presenter: Joe Gyurcsak
DEMO: Alla Prima painting sponsored by Blick and Utrecht

Wednesday, May 1, 9:45-12pm

The Kennedy Center, 429 JFK Way, Willingboro, NJ 08046

Free to WAA members and guests

Well known artist Joe Gyurcsak will give a demo on alla prima painting sponsored by Blick and Utrecht on May 1st at the Kennedy Center in Willingboro. The free event is for WAA members and guests.

Joe Gyurcsak paints a broad range of subject matter including interiors, still life, figurative and landscape painting. He has a keen sense for capturing the essence of his subject matter with a bold and candid approach. Joe studied at Parsons School of Design and The School of Visual Arts in New York and had a successful illustration career early on. He later went on to study with many leading representational painters of our time in pursuit of a fine art career. He exhibits, lectures, judges, and demonstrates across the country. Joe is a sought-after instructor because of his ability to convey complex concepts and techniques to students in simple terms. He has taught workshops and privately for more than 30 years. Joe has won numerous awards for his studio and plein air works, and is in collections worldwide. In addition, Joe is the Resident Artist / Brand Manager for Blick / Utrecht Art Supplies.

Artist's statement "My paintings express a sense of light, atmosphere, and mood; they transcend the techniques that were employed to create them and breathe the very light and atmosphere they were painted in. I like to capture the fleeting moments of life; the sublime manifestations of light and color, their aesthetic influences on the subject."
