Gila Rayberg will discuss her art practice and process for creating vibrant mosaic portraits of people and animals. She describes her work saying, "Cut and arranged with passion and spontaneity, I strive to create texture and movement; something you want to reach out and touch."

Rayberg began her art practice after a successful career as a freelance musician and educator. Allowing her strong sense of intuition and love of experimentation to guide her, she has developed a unique voice in the realm of mosaic portraiture. Rayberg travels extensively giving workshops and has won numerous awards and exhibits regularly throughout the U.S.
