Join us for an inspiring talk given by artist Pete Quarracino. Pete will talk about his career path, art journey, and the painting inspirations and techniques he uses to create incredible water scenes. WAA members and non-members welcomed.

Pete Quarracino has always been an artist. He grew up in Ohio and the Philadelphia suburbs, where his creative instincts emerged early at age. After attending the Philadelphia College of Art, Pete focused on music and small business, temporarily setting aside visual art. In 1991, Pete returned to painting, working primarily in oils. He continued his studies at Fleisher Art Memorial, the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts (PAFA), and the Chester County Art Association. His work has been exhibited at various institutions and galleries among them the Woodmere Art Museum, the State Museum of Pennsylvania, the Wayne Art Center, and the Chester County Art Association.
